KurzbeschreibungHaving mastered the basic vocabulary and elementary grammar, a student generally learns to use a language that he wants to achieve mainly by practice in the sentence patterns, which are the living substance of the language. There are basic sentence patterns and special sentence patterns in Chinese. Most of the special sentence patterns involve word group patterns, adjective patterns, noun patterns, preposition patterns, etc. However, in English most sentence patterns are verb patterns.A large part of Chinese special sentence patterns are related to the predicate of the sentence, in which nouns, adjectives, word groups, etc play a part. Word groups are important elements forming the predicate of the sentence. Nouns and adjectives alone can also function as the predicate of the sentence. However, phrases (similar to Chinese word groups) as well as nouns and adjectives alone cannot function as the predicate of the sentence in English.In this book, six Chinese basic sentence patterns and twelve Chinese special sentence patterns are introduced, which cover all the most important and most commonly-used Chinese sentence patterns. This book will minutely illustrate them one by one with charts. They are classified in accordance with their functions in the sentence in a systematical way, along with necessary comparison with English sentence patterns and translation. When you have got a good command of the structures and usage of the Chinese sentence patterns introduced in this book, you are able to write or to speak standard Chinese more readily and fluently.KurzbeschreibungHaving mastered the basic vocabulary and elementary grammar, a student generally learns to use a language that he wants to achieve mainly by practice in the sentence patterns, which are the living substance of the language. He graduated from English faculty of Sun Yat-sen University. He had taught at a Chinese university for nearly 20 years. Now he is honorary professor of SIAS International University in central China. Prof. Wen is a veteran translator. He has translated and copy- edited more than 100 books of different disciplines. He is a scholar in Chinese and English contrastive grammar and translation. So far he has published more than 10 academic books in this connection. Wen is also a literary writer. He has published 10 novels, 3 short story collections and 2 biographies. Of his 10 novels, 9 have been translated into English, of which he translated 8 and copied-edited another one. They were published in e-book edition and are being sold at Digital Services, USA. Wens representative work Red Memories pentalogy is highly appraised by the literary circles in Hong Kong and abroad. Professor Yuan Liangjun, research fellow with the Institute of Literature under the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, wrote in his work History of Different Schools of Fiction in Hong Kong, that it is the only novel series so far portraying the ultra-Left errors in China during the 1950s, 1960s and 1970s of the last century. With its grand boldness of vision and very true-to-life setting, the novel series profoundly reflects the tragic history of that period.
