

[Get free] I Am in Here: The Journey of a Child with Autism Who Cannot Speak but Finds Her Voice

I Am in Here: The Journey of a Child with Autism Who Cannot Speak but Finds Her Voice

Von Elizabeth M. Bonker, Virginia G. Breen
audiobook / *ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC

Download

Read Online

Produktinformation - Verkaufsrang: #1291693 in eBooks Veröffentlicht am: 2011-10-15 Erscheinungsdatum: 2011-10-15 File Name: B005LOPOCY | File size: 68.Mb

Von Elizabeth M. Bonker, Virginia G. Breen : I Am in Here: The Journey of a Child with Autism Who Cannot Speak but Finds Her Voice before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised I Am in Here: The Journey of a Child with Autism Who Cannot Speak but Finds Her Voice:

Kundenrezensionen Hilfreichste Kundenrezensionen 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. unbeschreiblich Von Laura N. Ein wunderbares Buch, das einem einen neuen Blickwinkel eröffnet und die Arbeit mit Autisten anders angehen lässt. Zärtlich und vielseitig beschrieben mit einer klaren Message. Es wird das Leben, der Kampf und die Erfolge der Familie gesprochen, sowie die Gedankenwelt und die Werte und Interessen.

Kurzbeschreibung She looked into my eyes and blinked hers slowly and deliberately, like a stroke victim, to show me that although she couldn't speak, she understood what I was saying to her. I stroked her hair softly. 'I know you're in there, honey,' I told her. 'We'll get you out.'" Despite the horror of seeing fifteen-month-old Elizabeth slip away into autism, her mother knew that her bright little girl was still in there. When Elizabeth eventually learned to communicate, first by using a letterboard and later by typing, the poetry she wrote became proof of a glorious, life-affirming victory for this young girl and her family. I Am in Here is the spiritual journey of a mother and daughter who refuse to give up hope, who celebrate their victories, and who keep trying to move forward despite the obstacles.

Although she cannot speak, Elizabeth writes poetry that shines a light on the inner world of autism and the world around us. That poetry and her mother's stirring storytelling combine in this inspirational book to proclaim that there is always a reason to take the next step forward--with hope. Kurzbeschreibung She looked into my eyes and blinked hers slowly and deliberately, like a stroke victim, to show me that although she couldn't speak, she understood what I was saying to her. I stroked her hair softly. 'I know you're in there, honey,' I told her. 'We'll get you out.'" Despite the horror of seeing fifteen-month-old Elizabeth slip away into autism, her mother knew that her bright little girl was still in there. When Elizabeth eventually learned to communicate, first by using a letterboard and later by typing, the poetry she wrote became proof of a glorious, life-affirming victory for this young girl and her family. I Am in Here is the spiritual journey of a mother and daughter who refuse to give up hope, who celebrate their victories, and who keep trying to move forward despite the obstacles. Although she cannot speak, Elizabeth writes poetry that shines a light on the inner world of autism and the world around us. That poetry and her mother's stirring storytelling combine in this inspirational book to proclaim that there is always a reason to take the next step forward--with hope. Klappentext Elizabeth M. Bonker is a thirteen-year-old young lady with autism who cannot yet speak but who writes deeply revealing poetry, which was featured on PBS's Religion Ethics Newsweekly. She excels in school with an educational aide. Virginia G. Breen is the mother of three beautiful children, two of whom are profoundly affected by autism. Besides working to heal her children, Virginia is a venture capitalist investing in high-tech companies, and she sits on both corporate and nonprofit boards. She studied computer science at Harvard, business at Columbia, and philosophy in Singapore. Elizabeth and Virginia live in northern New Jersey.