KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. A Must ReadVon Glenda M. ThomasThis book is one that has really challenged me to evaluate my character. I use it and recommend it often. The straight forward and thoughtful approach is affective. There is a temptation to make excuses for ourselves and others when we display character flaws. And our society winks at "whites lies" and "small sins" , but God holds us to the highest standard. Read this when you are truly ready to honest with yourself.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. A Must ReadVon Ein KundeCharacter is one of the most important things for us to remember. Every day we need to be aware of how we treat each other. This book gives us insite on character building. We all could use a little help with this. Get this book study it and put some of its ideas into practace. You will be a better person and help make the world a better place.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. A book to have in my own Library and to give to others!Von Ein KundeRev Bill Hybels has done a remarkable job of defining "character" something so important;that many have lost sight of. Easy reading, one that you want to sail right thru; and one that you will read over and over. I have read it twice. Have given it to three special friends and they love it too!

KurzbeschreibungWe are all at our best when it counts. But what are we like when no one's looking? That's where character comes inbeing consistent even when it doesn't seem to matter.Courage. Discipline. Vision. Endurance. Love. These character qualities are quickly becoming endangered. All too often we hear of marriages falling apart, governments lying, businesses cheating and scandals rocking the church. But with God's guidance and strength, we can maintain character that lasts despite temptations and troubles.Pressestimmen"One of the most influential books I read as a student."--StudentSoul.org, July 31, 2007KurzbeschreibungWe are all at our best when it counts.
